Rapid Site Access Program

An alternative to site access testing

(acronyms referenced on Appendix A)

These rules are an evergreen document that will be reviewed, and updated as applicable, by the RSAP Administrative Committee as legislation, the Canadian Model, collective agreements or worksite needs require.

Introduction

Across Canada, stakeholders within the construction industry are strongly committed to establishing and maintaining a safe and healthy workplace, free from risks associated with the use of alcohol and other drugs. As part of this commitment, there has been an increased focus on site access testing.

With this focus in mind, RSAP has been developed by key industry stakeholders as an integral component of an overall approach to safety and loss management. RSAP is an innovative voluntary program that is intended to be an alternative to site access testing. Owned by Construction Labour Relations – An Alberta Association and managed by TPCA on behalf of the REOs, RSAP helps to ensure compliance, expedites the dispatch process and, ultimately, improves safety performance. It is designed to support and supplement the Canadian Model.

Background

In recent years, throughout the construction industry, there has been an increased focus on site access testing as part of an overall commitment toward ensuring a safe and healthy workplace. In August 2004, owner companies across Alberta began implementing site access testing whereby workers were tested for alcohol and drugs as a prerequisite to becoming eligible to access an owner's site.

The preliminary results of site access testing have been encouraging. In fact, implementing site access testing has correlated to significant reduction in the number of incidents, a reduction in the severity of incidents occurring, and in reduction in post-incident positive A&D test results. In addition, it has created a shift in attitudes toward testing. Many workers take comfort in the efforts and controls put in place to promote a safe work environment free of risks associated with the misuse of alcohol and other drugs. As stakeholders become more familiar with programs such as site access testing, acceptance continues to increase.

However, site access testing also presents some limitations. For example, it results in redundant testing, a much slower dispatch process, it includes a scheduled or known test thereby enabling workers to prepare for it, and accountability frameworks and follow-up support are contingent on the commitment, knowledge and resources of the union and employer involved. As well, it is still an arm's length away from assessing a worker's condition while at work.

In late 2004, a working group of industry stakeholders came together to examine alternatives to site access testing. This effort was largely driven by the Alberta and Northwest Territories (District of Mackenzie) Regional Council of Carpenters and Allied Workers (referred to as the Carpenters) as part of its quest for a program that would mitigate any known limitations of site access testing. The working group, known as the RSAP Committee, includes a wide range of members with expertise in labour relations, safety administration, operations and construction management. The RSAP Committee has consulted with medical, occupational health, substance abuse assessment, EFAP, testing, treatment, aftercare, and legal expertise through the course of developing this initiative.

Through extensive collaboration and research, including benchmarking with similar programs in Canada and the United States, the RSAP Committee has developed the Rapid Site Access Program.

A Closer Look at RSAP

RSAP is a proposed alternative to site access testing. It is a voluntary program, not imposed by owners or contractors, whereby eligible workers enter into an agreement with a TPCA before ever entering a work site.

Prior to joining RSAP, a worker must qualify by submitting to a pre-enrolment A&D test or by presenting a previous A&D test acceptable to the program. Once a worker has qualified, the worker will sign a voluntary participation agreement with the TPCA and will be ready to be dispatched to a participating site. While under contract, participant workers must maintain their RSAP active status by complying with the Canadian Model, and by continuing to participate in applicable random, RTW and follow-up testing for alcohol and drugs.

With RSAP, owner and contractors relinquish their role of administrator to a professional third party and, with knowledge of the rigorous testing, follow-up frameworks and aftercare support in place, can accept this program with assurance as an effective alternative to site access testing. Put simply, to owners and contractors, RSAP means increased confidence that participant workers continue to be free from using alcohol and drugs while on a work site.

The benefits of RSAP are tremendous for all stakeholders. For participant workers, the benefits include:

- Conforms to participant worker's strong commitment to safety,
- Expedited dispatch,
- Less testing,
- Less testing on personal time,
- Corrective focus,
- Enhanced privacy,
- Consistent professional administration, and
- Increased confidentiality.

For unions, owners and contractors, the benefits include:

- Rationally connected to achieving safety objective,
- Lower costs,
- Decreased frequency in testing,
- Expedited dispatch,
- Enhanced compliance frameworks,
- More effective follow-up and after care,
- Random testing experience in Alberta,
- Maintains dignity and privacy of participant workers,
- Professional administration, and
- Consistent application based on objective standards.

Guiding principles

Throughout the creation of RSAP, the working group adhered to the following guiding principles, which served as a framework for the development of the program.

- Industry stakeholders are committed to creating a safe and healthy workplace, free of risks associated with the use of alcohol and/or other drugs.
- Historical trends indicate that achieving the above-mentioned objective to create a safe and healthy workplace, correlates to a reduction in workplace incidents.
- Industry stakeholders intend to reduce redundant substance testing and related costs while expediting access to participant sites.
- Industry stakeholders understand that A&D work rules are more effective if they are implemented in a way that preserves the dignity and privacy of participant workers.
- Coordinating the exchange of sensitive information through a centralized third party.
- Provides greater control over the collection, use, disclosure, safeguards, and storage of personal information.
- Helps to increase participant worker confidentiality in their place of work and enhance participant worker privacy in relation to their union.
- Retaining the continuity of information through a centralized third party is necessary to reduce redundant testing, expedite access to participant sites and provide seamless CMAC to affected participant workers.
- Comprehensive professional TPCA provides for the effective delivery of education, compliance and if necessary, accommodation strategies. Investment in professional treatment, education, follow-up, and after-care frameworks support affected participant workers in maintaining compliance with the Canadian Model and if necessary, recovering from an addiction and/or dependency to alcohol or other drugs.

Procedural Rules

Article 1.0 - Purpose and scope

- 1.1 The purpose of RSAP is to provide a comprehensive, reliable, and efficient program, as an effective alternative to site access testing that helps to ensure a safe and healthy workplace free from the risks associated with alcohol and drugs. RSAP is intended to be part of an overall fair and objective standard substance abuse policy framework that promotes a safe and substance abuse free workplace.
- 1.2 This program was developed with the understanding that participant workers who are current and in compliance would have an active status for all the participant sites, pursuant to RSAP.
- 1.3 This policy is intended to supplement the Canadian Model, as amended from time to time.
- 1.4 The RSAP Procedural Rules shall apply to all RSAP stakeholders, including all participant sites, participant workers, participant contractors, participant owners and participant unions.
- 1.5 Site and/or employment restrictions that arise from circumstances outside the administration of RSAP, are beyond the scope of the RSAP Procedural Rules.
- 1.6 Information collected, used, disclosed, or retained through the course of administering RSAP may only be collected, used, disclosed, or retained for purposes within the scope of the RSAP Procedural Rules, and may only be done so in a manner consistent with same.

Article 2.0 - Basic policy

- 2.1 Workers must be in compliance with the Canadian Model and Appendix C while at work and, if applicable, must be in compliance with return-to-work conditions set by the TPCA.
- 2.2 The TPCA will classify participant workers as being either active or inactive/ineligible for dispatch.
 - (a) Participant workers who are in compliance with Clause 2.1 will be classified as active.
 - (b) Participant workers who are not in compliance with Clause 2.1 will be classified as inactive/ineligible for dispatch.
- 2.3 The designation of inactive/ineligible for dispatch status is not intended to imply and shall not be deemed to imply the presence of an addiction, dependency, or an abuse of substances.

- 2.4 Subject to Clause 4.6, a participant union shall not knowingly dispatch an inactive/ineligible participant worker to a site or a contractor.
- 2.5 Participant contractors and participant owners must refuse site access to participant workers for whom the TPCA is unable to confirm active status.
- 2.6 An active participant worker satisfies the site access eligibility requirements of RSAP.
- 2.7 In addition to testing requirements specifically addressed in the Canadian Model, and in Appendix C, participant workers shall be subject to A&D testing as follows:
- (a) Pre-enrolment, and
 - (b) Re-Enrolment, and
 - (c) Random,
- and when applicable:
- (d) Return-to-work, and
 - (e) Follow-up.
- 2.8 Testing will be performed by the testing administrator. The testing administrator shall report the results to the participant worker and the TPCA only. However, in the event an onsite breath alcohol test is confirmed positive, or the donor fails to complete the collection procedure, the testing administrator will contact the participating contractor forthwith and indicate there is a non-negative result prior to releasing the participant worker back to the site. In addition, if the collection site person observes behaviour that raises concerns regarding that participant worker's ability to work safely, that participant worker's participating contractor will be contacted, and those concerns will be shared prior to releasing that participant worker back to site.

Article 3.0 – Privacy

- 3.1 The protection of personal information is important to RSAP. Policy and procedures dealing with the protection of privacy are in effect. Any questions about appropriate collection, use, disclosure or retention of information can be directed to the applicable Privacy Officer by contacting the applicable REO directly.

RSAP stakeholders play an important role in protecting personal information. RSAP stakeholders - including all participant sites, participant workers, participant contractors, participant owners and participant unions - are required to have their own policies in place to ensure compliance with all provincial and federal privacy legislation, adhere to the applicable REO policy and take all reasonable steps to ensure that personal information is protected from unauthorized collection, use, disclosure, and retention.

Any:

- (a) Participant worker,
- (b) RSAP stakeholder,
- (c) Government agency acting within its jurisdiction, or
- (d) Other party given standing by RSAP, who perceives that personal information retained by RSAP is managed in a manner inconsistent with RSAP policies and procedures or applicable legislation, may bring concerns to the attention of the RSAP Privacy Officer.

Upon receiving such notification, the Privacy Officer will investigate the concerns. Investigations resulting in the need for program process adjustments or escalation will be reported, void of personal information to ensure the protection of all involved, to the Administrative Committee at the next scheduled meeting of the committee.

If the participant organization or participant worker initiating the complaint notifies the Privacy Officer in writing that they are unsatisfied with the findings disclosed above within 10 days of receipt of said findings, the Privacy Officer will continue to manage the complaint as per the requirements of Alberta's Privacy Information Protection Act (PIPA).

In the event the complainant(s) remains unsatisfied with the Privacy Officer's decision, a complaint may be filed with the Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner of Alberta.

A decision to not enroll in RSAP shall not negate or override any decision made in accordance with the process and procedures set out in the Canadian Model unless specified in writing by all affected parties. Where a worker enrolls in RSAP following a breach of the Canadian Model, a pre-enrolment test is not required. However, the TPCA must receive the SAE Assessment report and recommendations for the purpose of CMAC and entering into a RTW agreement.

4.2 Opting out of RSAP

Only participant workers active with RSAP, and who are not currently employed by a participant contractor, may opt out of RSAP. Requests to opt out of RSAP shall be made in writing and submitted to the TPCA for review. In the event the eligible worker has a prior dispatch restriction with the participant union relating to an A&D issue, registering for RSAP does not override such restriction. In such situations, the participant union may refer such conditions to the TPCA who shall manage that file on the participant union's behalf.
- (c) When the TPCA is satisfied that all enrollment requirements have been met, the TPCA will confirm the eligible worker is now a participant worker in RSAP and maintain their profile.
- (d) Letters will be sent by the TPCA to the participant union informing the participant union of new participant workers.

9.4 Confirmation of status

Upon receipt of the RSAP dispatches of the day, www.rsap.ca shall confirm the participant workers' current and active status and will post participant workers current and active to the respective participant contractor's dispatch page.

9.5 Processing random draws, random testing, follow-up testing and the monthly test list

- (a) On a monthly basis, a random draw will be performed via www.rsap.ca on the employed participant worker list at the percentage set by the Administrative Committee for the purpose of obtaining a random draw.
- (b) Once the random pool has been generated, the TPCA shall add the follow-up tests required for the month and create a monthly test list. The monthly test list shall include instructions relating to any variances to the testing procedure required for a participant worker.
- (c) www.rsap.ca shall disclose the monthly test list to the testing administrator monthly.

- (g) In the event a participant worker is randomly drawn for a test but said test is not completed because the participant worker was unreachable, it shall be automatically carried forward to the next month's list until the test is completed OR 6 unsuccessful tests have been attempted. When 6 tests have been unsuccessfully attempted, the participant worker is automatically removed from the list and placed into the random pool.
- (h) In the event an onsite follow-up test is not completed because the worker was absent from site, the test shall be scheduled accordingly:
 - (i) For workers with an SAE diagnosis of dependence: an offsite test shall be scheduled directly with the participant worker in the following month.
 - (ii) For workers with an SAE diagnosis of Abuse or a finding of Harmful Use: the onsite test will be carried forward unless the testing administrator visits the site later in the same month.

- (e) Once the assessment is performed, the TPCA will receive recommendations from the SAET.
- (f) Upon receipt of the recommendations, the TPCA shall estimate how much time off, if any, the participant worker will require to comply with the recommendations and/or be in a position to return to work. The TPCA will, if applicable, contact the affected participant contractor to advise of the estimated time for the participant worker to return to active status and be able to return to work.
- (g) The TPCA shall manage the delivery of the recommendations with applicable treatment providers. The TPCA shall combine recommendations of various service providers and program experts as appropriate and, following CMAC Procedures, Rules & Eligibility, map out a comprehensive program designed to support the participant worker's compliance with the Canadian Model.

9.7 Support for participant workers when a violation occurs - Step 2

- (a) If applicable and at the appropriate time, the TPCA shall draft and enter into a RTW agreement with the participant worker.
- (b) Once both the participant worker and the TPCA agree to and sign the RTW agreement; and the necessary conditions to enable the participant worker to return to work are successfully satisfied, the participant worker is classified as active.
- (c) When the RTW agreement is signed, and the necessary conditions to enable the participant worker to return to work are successfully satisfied, the TPCA shall send notification to the participant worker's union and affected participant contractor indicating the participant worker is active and can return to work. It is understood that the participant worker will be given the opportunity to return to work for the affected participating contractor if work is still available within the terms of the RTW agreement and if the participant worker is qualified to perform said work.¹
- (d) In the event there are work-related limitations and restrictions identified by the TPCA, the participant worker shall be notified of said limitations. The limitations shall be set out in writing and sent to the participant contractor at the time of dispatch. The participant worker and the participant's contractor shall be advised of any changes to said limitations and restrictions.
- (e) The TPCA will continue to manage the delivery of CMAC until the participant worker has participated in fulfilling the conditions and completed the term of the aftercare program. In managing the aftercare program, the TPCA will continue to monitor progress, receiving reports and recommendations from service providers.

¹Subject to the absence of other performance issues falling outside the scope of RSAP that have frustrated the employment relationship (including but not limited to tampering, selling of drugs, violence, destruction of property, theft etc.)

- (f) The TPCA shall schedule return-to-work and follow-up tests with the testing administrator.
- 9.8 Support for participant workers when a relapse or subsequent violation or non-compliance with their return to work agreement occurs - Step 3 (if applicable)
- (a) TPCA will collect all pertinent information relating to the participant worker and send it to a SAET for consideration.
 - (b) The TPCA will refer the participant worker to said SAET for reassessment. Where practical, the TPCA will refer the participant worker back to the same SAE who conducted the participant worker's original assessment.
 - (c) Upon receipt of the SAE report, the TPCA will consider the findings of the SAE and make a determination based on the SAE's recommendations.
- 9.9 Upon receipt of the recommendations, the TPCA will estimate how much time off, if any, the participant worker will require in order to comply with the recommendations and/or be in a position to return to work. The TPCA will contact, where applicable, the affected participant contractor and advise of the estimated time.
- 9.10 TPCA will manage the delivery of the recommendations with applicable treatment providers. The TPCA will combine recommendations of various providers and experts as appropriate and following CMAC, map out a comprehensive aftercare program, designed to support the participant worker's compliance with the Canadian Model.

APPENDIX B - Participant worker voluntary participation agreement

The Rapid Site Access Program (RSAP) is established to help provide a safe workplace free from risks associated with alcohol and other drug misuse. RSAP is intended to replace redundant site access testing for referral to all jobs where the participant contractor and participant owner agree to participate in the RSAP. In return for not having to undergo site access testing, the signatory participant worker agrees to accept the terms of the voluntary random testing program established by the RSAP Administrative Committee.

Prior to admittance into the program, the eligible worker must provide to the Third Party Case Administration (TPCA), Alcohol and Drug (A&D) results from a test laboratory approved by TPCA, taken within the previous 90 days. Alternatively, if the worker is currently employed by a participant contractor on a site that required a site access testing order to qualify for access to that site, said worker may request his or her participating contractor submit that test to the TPCA on his or her behalf.

While it is intended that RSAP become accepted industry-wide, currently RSAP is only effective where both the participant contractor and participant owner agree to participate in and be bound by the RSAP Procedural Rules.

RSAP will be administered by a TPCA, testing administrator, Substance Abuse Expert (SAE) team, and treatment team who are hereby authorized to keep relevant records, disclose personal information to approved stakeholders, and manage and administer the random drug testing, as well as, if applicable, the assessment, treatment, and after-care segments of the system. The TPCA, testing administration, SAE team and treatment team are subject to the Procedural Rules.

RSAP supplements the Canadian Model, which remains in effect.

The participant worker will be taken off active status in RSAP if any of the following occur:

- A refusal to test when required,
- A test sample has been tampered with by the participant worker tested, or
- A positive test result occurred for either alcohol or drugs on any requested test.

Any decision to take a participant worker off active status is final and is subject to limited review only as provided for in the Procedural Rules. Reactivation will be the decision of the TPCA and may be subject to certain conditions being met.

Participant workers in compliance with RSAP, who are not currently employed by a participant contractor, may opt-out of RSAP by making their request in writing and submitting it to the TPCA. Participant workers not in compliance with RSAP, who are currently employed by a participating contractor and/or who are signatory to a Return to Work (RTW) agreement with TPCA, shall not be permitted to opt-out of the program. A former participant worker who is no longer a participant in the RSAP will revert to any existing rules for dispatch with respect to site access testing.

I _____, having read the above and agree that I fully understand the above conditions, hereby apply for enrolment into RSAP. I hereby agree to be bound by the RSAP Procedural Rules that are established and updated from time to time with respect to my remaining in RSAP and that these Procedural Rules are necessary for the administration and operation of RSAP. I understand that my request to enter RSAP is made voluntarily and of my own free will. I understand the use of my UNIQUE IDENTIFIER shall be for the sole purpose of assigning each RSAP applicant/participant a unique ID Number, and my UNIQUE IDENTIFIER shall not be disclosed to any party thereafter.
